Company profile

Hlanyane Environmental Solutions helps Gauteng homes, businesses and facilities manage pest, hygiene, bird and vegetation risks through clear scopes, planned work and accurate service records.

A practical environmental services partner

Based in Duduza, HES combines direct management involvement with site-specific planning, practical prevention and agreed follow-up. The company focuses on reliable local delivery and assesses wider work against travel, staffing and equipment capacity.

What clients can expect

A written scope and price before commitment; suitable work planned around the site; a record of actual findings and service; and a clear next step. Once-off work and recurring programmes are available where appropriate to the need.

Our purpose

Protect people, property and the environment through responsible service. Grow by improving delivery, building skills and earning repeat business.

Protecting People, Providing Solutions and Delivering Growth.

Values expressed through our work

HES uses business discipline to make service dependable and growth sustainable.

Integrity

Describe the scope, price, readiness and service outcome accurately. Use current evidence for ownership, qualifications and registrations.

Careful use of resources

Plan stock, equipment, labour and travel. Reduce avoidable waste while retaining the work, safety and quality promised.

Accountability

Link the quotation, job, service record and invoice. Raise access limits and corrective actions with a responsible person and next date.

Competence and learning

Match tasks to training and authorisation, use supervision where required and learn from complaints and site findings.

Long term relationships

Offer appropriate monitoring and prevention, review programmes and explain changes before committing the client.

Four coordinated service areas

Each quotation defines the actual areas, methods, quantities and visits included.

Pest management

Inspection-led rodent, cockroach, ant, bedbug and termite management. Suitable targeted methods, accessible areas, device records, preparation and follow-up are selected for the pest and premises.

Hygiene and sanitation

Once-off and scheduled cleaning, agreed disinfection tasks, washroom support, consumables and dispenser supply or servicing where priced. Floor area, contact times, access and waste handling inform the scope.

Bird control and proofing

Assessment of roosting and entry points with suitable netting, spikes, exclusion or deterrent measures. Nesting, cleanup and work at height require a site-specific plan.

Vegetation management

Physical removal, targeted weed treatments and planned regrowth management where suitable. Surface, weather, sensitive plants, access and disposal are assessed.

Service suited to the premises

HES starts with the property's risks, access needs and desired outcome.

Homes and complexes

Agree affected rooms, exterior areas and accessible ceiling work. Explain preparation and relevant family, pet, food and re-entry precautions.

Restaurants and hospitality

Plan around operating windows and sensitive areas. Keep service and corrective recommendation records that support housekeeping and maintenance; these are not food-safety certification.

Property managers and facilities

Use site and device references to track visits, findings, access issues and agreed actions. Coordinate occupants and common areas through a named contact.

Institutions and procurement teams

Map the requested scope and mandatory evidence to the proposal. Check resources, supply lead times and funding before accepting a larger assignment.

A clear service journey

The service standard is inspect, plan, execute, document and follow up.

Understand

Confirm the property, service need, affected areas and access. Bee enquiries may need safe-distance photos or video and a site visit before a firm price.

Agree

Explain preparation, suitable methods, work areas, visits, exclusions and the total. The R200 assessment and planning line is included within an agreed all-inclusive price. New once-off quotes allocate the current R950 standard components within the agreed total: assessment R200, service team R400, equipped attendance R300 and documentation R50. Recurring costs follow the signed schedule.

Deliver

Use appropriately competent personnel, suitable products, equipment and site controls. Notify material changes or delays and agree a practical response.

Record

Record actual work and products, relevant quantities, limitations, advice and responsible operator details. A certificate where appropriate records completed service.

Review

Follow the accepted quotation’s terms and assess persistent activity, corrective work or prevention actions. A request is not a confirmed booking.

People and service assurance

Thato Hlanyane leads HES as Founder and Managing Director.

Leadership background

Thato holds a BCom in Strategic Management completed in 2024 and is undertaking Honours studies in Strategic Management. His background includes PCITA Structural Pest Control Skills training at NQF Level 2, basic firefighting training in 2025 and practical experience gained through News Rand Business Enterprise.

Company records

Registration 2026/552143/07. CSD number MAAA1753145. Current recorded ownership and control is 100% Thato Hlanyane. News Rand and HES are separate legal entities; partner credentials and projects are not represented as HES-owned achievements.

Readiness for the assignment

COIDA registration is recorded under 990001664629; the latest supporting record still lists the Letter of Good Standing as pending. The founder’s PCO application remains under review in the available records. Training does not substitute for issued registration. Regulated work requires verified authority and appropriate personnel or specialist arrangements.

Evidence and communication

HES checks site risks, product labels, safety information and operator readiness. Current supporting documents and permitted references may be requested. Insurance and specialist requirements are confirmed for the assignment rather than assumed.

Growing responsibly in our communities

HES intends to support Duduza, Dunnottar and Nigel as the business builds sustainable capacity. The following activities are plans, not claims of completed projects.

Begin with prevention education

Start with one affordable pilot session with a willing local organisation. Explain food storage, waste management, entry points and when professional assistance is needed. Record the date, host, attendance and feedback before reporting results.

Build useful local opportunity

As suitable paid work grows, consider capable local workers and suppliers, with fair selection, induction and supervision. Do not promise permanent work or assign regulated duties beyond competence and authority.

Fund what the business can sustain

Protect service commitments, wages and verified obligations first. Approve each community activity against a capped budget and available capacity. Review progress quarterly, and expand education or shared-space support only after the pilot is assessed.

Request a site specific quotation

Tell HES your name, contact number, service address, property type, problem or service required, affected areas and preferred access times.

Book or enquire

HES Direct is live for service enquiries and sends its main form to Zoho CRM. WhatsApp and email alternatives let the visitor review and send the entered details. Scope, price and appointment availability are confirmed before work begins.
